

Planners . . .

Orchard told the board that if it was determined that his MWA post was legally incompatible with planning commission service, his preference would be to step down from the water agency board and serve on the commission.

Other nominees from the desert area included real estate appraiser Joseph Gallagher, immediate past president of the Inland Empire Property Owners Association; Lee Kinney, who has engaged in general contracting in Apple Valley the past five years after six years in Yuca Valley; Elizabeth Dally, a Hemet-based rancher and former member of her community's school board; and Hans Berry, government relations representative for Apple Valley Ranchos.

Dogs . . .

dog owner "cried so hard over the telephone I had to do something." Soon after talking to one owner, Thiem said he learned that another litter of cockers had been stolen from a Redlands man. He said the circumstances surrounding the theft and the suspect description were the same as those described by the first victim.

gained at both the Riverside and San Bernardino police departments and at the corner market. "I think there's been some picking the police or something," she said, "but it was well worth it."

Woman dies of snake bite

EDYLLWILD — A Paramount woman on a family outing died of a rattlesnake bite Monday night at a hospital near here, a hospital spokesman said.

Becky Kim, 61, who reportedly was picking ferns at the time, was bitten Sunday on her left leg. Kim was the second reported rattlesnake bite victim in two weeks.

inland empire central valley edition

Bill . . .

Two years ago, John Paul Stark portrayed himself as the only Republican candidate whose views were moderate enough to stand a chance against incumbent George E. Brown Jr., D-Riverside.

Stark, a San Bernardino businessman, supported affirmative action program, mandatory busing under some circumstances and the Panama Canal treaty — positions eschewed by the party's more conservative wing.

Stark, 38, now says he would not use the word "moderate" to describe himself. Both he and the voters have become more conservative in the last two years, he said.

Stark, 38, now says he would not use the word "moderate" to describe himself. Both he and the voters have become more conservative in the last two years, he said.

Stark, 38, now says he would not use the word "moderate" to describe himself. Both he and the voters have become more conservative in the last two years, he said.

Stark swings toward right in bid for GOP nomination

By HARVEY FEIST San Bern Co Editor

John Paul Stark

Stark won the GOP primary election but now finds those positions being used against him in this year's election by his two opponents.

The two — retired businessman Ed Valen of Fontana and Riverside attorney Scott Edward Darling — are considerably to the right of Stark on most issues and figure Stark's old positions will cost him votes in this year's political climate.

Stark, 38, now says he would not use the word "moderate" to describe himself. Both he and the voters have become more conservative in the last two years, he said.

Stark, 38, now says he would not use the word "moderate" to describe himself. Both he and the voters have become more conservative in the last two years, he said.

Stark, 38, now says he would not use the word "moderate" to describe himself. Both he and the voters have become more conservative in the last two years, he said.

campaign '82

Stark would not support lowering California air standards but thinks situations exist around the country where standards could be changed to "truly reflect economic realities."

Stark said his campaign is unique in that his religious background offers the opportunity to involve many volunteers in efforts to compensate for cutbacks in social programs. He spent seven years working for Campus Crusade for Christ.

Carroll appointed warden of prison

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Brown Tuesday appointed Mildred A. "Midge" Carroll, 44, a woman as warden of the 130,000 inmate California Institution for Men near Chico.

Stark, 38, now says he would not use the word "moderate" to describe himself. Both he and the voters have become more conservative in the last two years, he said.

Stark, 38, now says he would not use the word "moderate" to describe himself. Both he and the voters have become more conservative in the last two years, he said.

Correction

SAN BERNARDINO — Two housing workshops, which will examine discrimination against families among other things, will be held June 9-10 here and in the West End.

Boy killed when struck by train

COLTON — Christopher Kirby, 17, of Grand Terrace was killed instantly Tuesday when hit by a train on a railroad bridge.

Big Bear home damaged by fire

BIG BEAR LAKE — A two-story home here sustained about $30,000 in damage in a Tuesday morning fire.

Man arrested in stabbing

BIG BEAR LAKE — A Big Bear man, accused of stabbing two Marines in a fight here, has been arrested by sheriff's deputies who stalked out an Apple Valley house where he had been staying.

Council . . .

In base salaries and the city has agreed to contribute $80 toward each employee's health insurance and about the final 43 percent of their payments to the Public Employees Retirement System.

Flags

Flags for sale at $12.95 per flag. $5.50 per flag. The Sun 380 D St., San Bernardino, 92401

NOW OPEN IN FULLERTON & WALNUT CREEK! PAGE AFTER PAGE . . .

8.50% PASSBOOK

Calculated to Hold Your Interest! This Passbook pays you 8.50% plus it's compounded every day. So you earn even more!

Table with columns: TYPE, RATE - YIELD, MINIMUM, COMPOUNDED. Rows include 6 MONTH, 3 MONTH, 30 MONTH, ALL-SAVERS, IRA.

Don't Wait... Everyday You Delay Could Be Costing You Money. Call or Come in Today!

SECURITY PACIFIC FINANCE MONEYS CENTER INC. "WHERE IT REALLY PAYS TO SAVE" TWO NEW LOCATIONS TO SERVE YOU: FULLERTON, 4420 N. HARBOR BLVD., SUITE 102, (714) 781-6200; WALNUT CREEK, 3601 OLYMPIC BLVD., SUITE 304, (415) 938-1300.